

A close-up photograph of a surgical field. A purple stapler is positioned vertically in the center, with a bright light reflecting off its tip. The background is a blurred, light-colored surgical drape with several bright, circular light sources. The text "Cirugía Combinada con Express" is overlaid in a bold, black, serif font.

Cirugía Combinada con Express

Paula Vázquez de Parga

Express

---

- Excessive
- Pressure
- REgulation
- Shunt
- System

Express

---

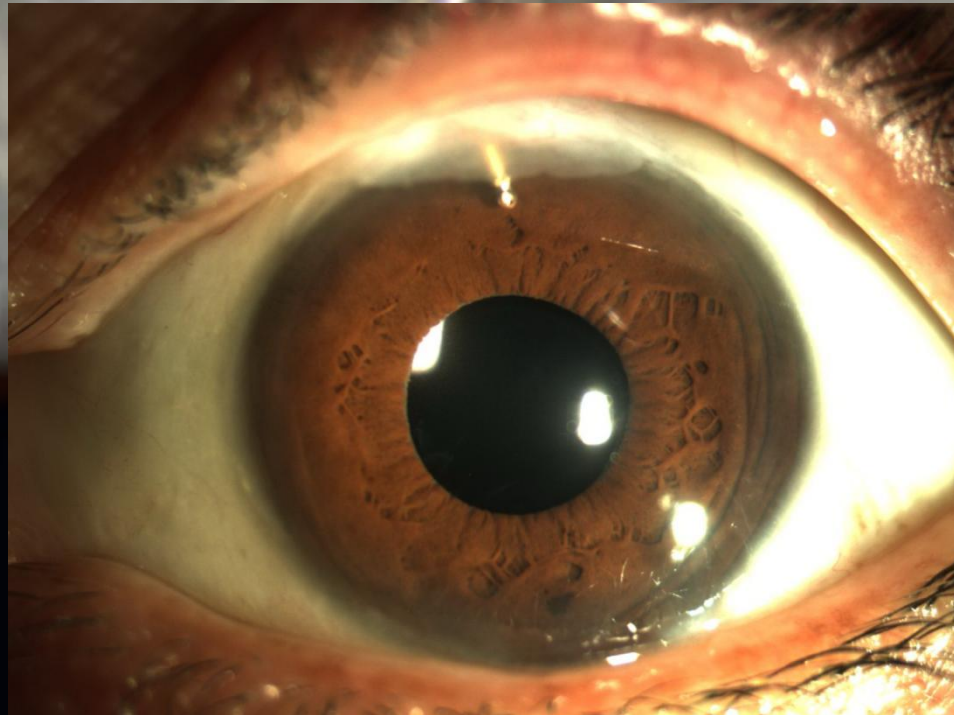

Lumen Externo	400 $\mu\text{m}$
Lumen Interno	50 $\mu\text{m}$ , 200 $\mu\text{m}$
Largo	2.64 mm
Plato	Canal vertical
Aguja pre-incisión	25g

Disponible forma
precargada

Express _____

Indicaciones y contraindicaciones

Express

---

- Indicaciones:
  - Glaucoma de Angulo Abierto, no controlado con tto médico.

Express

---

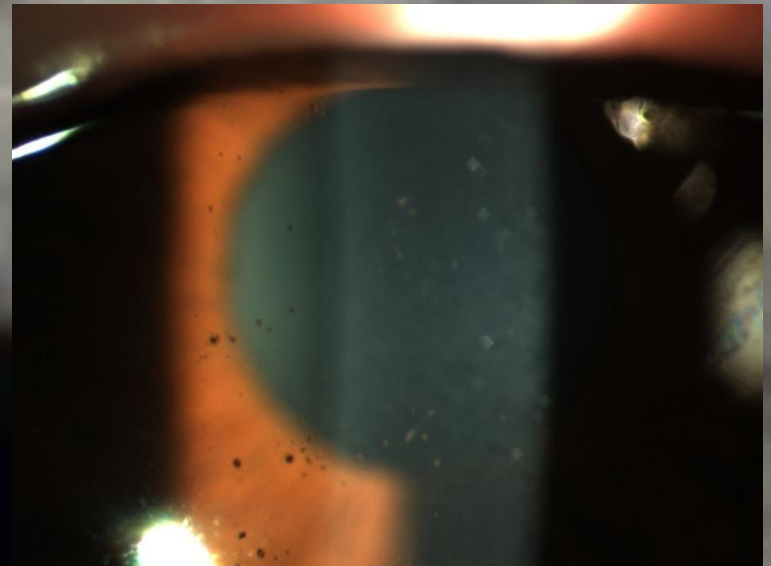

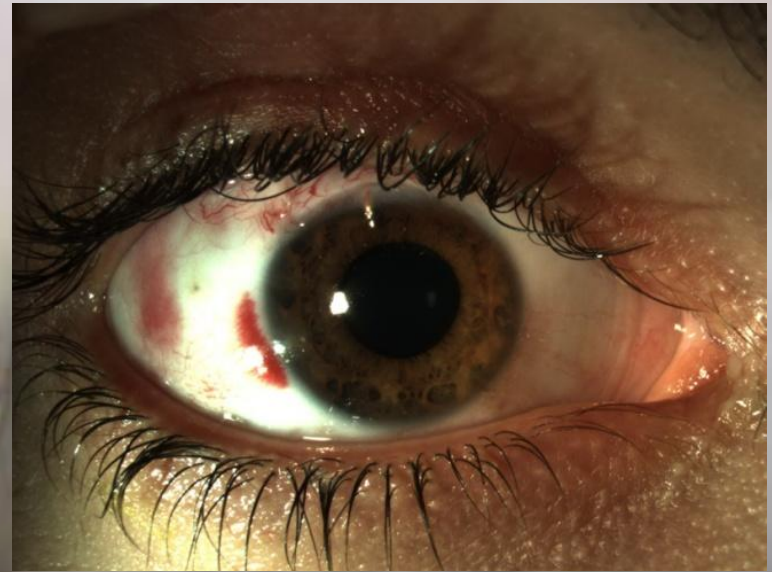

- Cirugía previa de glaucoma fallida (reintervenciones)

Express

Indicaciones:

- Glaucomas Secundarios:
- Glau de Angulo Estrecho (sólo en posible en asociación a Faco)
- Glaucoma Uveítico
- Glaucoma Traumático
- Glaucoma Neovascular (en conjunto con anti VEGF)

Express

---

- Contraindicaciones:

- Glaucoma Congénito (Faltan estudios)
- Microftalmia
- Patologías problemáticas en cualquier cirugía

Express

---

Ventajas ExPRESS vs Trabe:

- Reducción PIO similar Trabe
- Sencillo y preciso
- Minimamente invasivo.
- Estabilidad de la C Ant. intraoperaroria.
- No precisa iridectomia periférica.
- Más predecible y reproducible

Express

Ventajas ExPRESS vs Trabe:

- Lumen consistente
- Menos complicaciones (hipotonía, inflamación, recuperación más rápida):
- Rápido aprendizaje

Express _____

Facoemulsificación con implante de Express

Express

---

Express

---

GRACIAS